

Message from the Managing Director of the Jamaica Social Investment Fund, Omar Sweeney, congratulating Manpower on their 30th Anniversary

It is with great pleasure that the Jamaica Social Investment Fund, JSIF, congratulates Manpower and Maintenance Services Limited on their 30th anniversary.

Manpower and JSIF have had a long-standing partnership spanning a period of over half a decade. This partnership has resulted in hundreds of individuals being trained and placed in several areas of the service industry.

This fruitful partnership has been in direct line with our mandate at JSIF to improve communities through investing in individuals, aiding them to acquire the skills necessary to improve their families and by extension their communities and the country.

Manpower's Institute for Workforce Education and Development, IWED is a first choice for us when developing training programmes, as we are assured that the beneficiaries will be fitted with the requisite skills to become international grade professionals in any service area they choose to pursue.

In this time of a pandemic when the importance of good sanitation practices and facilities management can mean the difference between life and death, Manpower continues to show how important its services are and its continued value to the country.

As you celebrate your 30th year of service to Jamaica, JSIF looks forward to many more years of partnership with Manpower as we pursue our mutual goal of building a better Jamaica.
