FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Jamaica Social Investment Fund (JSIF), is concerned by the recent flare up of violence in several communities in which the Fund is currently undertaking social interventions and infrastructural projects.

The violence has recently resulted in one of the major planned events, which was to be executed with corporate partners and government agencies, being postponed. This important event cannot now be held until peace and order are restored in the community.

The interventions conducted in these largely underserved communities by the JSIF are critical to the delivery of essential services and to uplifting the lives of all residents. When placed on hold, the entire community suffers.

It is with this in mind, that the JSIF urges members of these communities to cooperate with the members of the security forces in every way possible, so that the business of social and infrastructural development can continue to the benefit of all residents.
